

Shaker's Rapid Transit makes getting around town easy

A brief walk to the rapid stops with rail lines to Downtown Cleveland's Tower City, Cleveland Hopkins International Airport, Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Museum, Great Lakes Science Center, East 4th Street, The Cleveland Browns Stadium, Cleveland Indians Progressive Field and Cavaliers Quicken Loans Arena.

On your way downtown you may want to get off and shop, dine or go to a movie at Shaker Square, listed in the National Register of Historic Places as one of the oldest shopping centers in Ohio. On Saturday mornings local farmers, craftsmen and artisans sell their foods and products at the Farmers Market

Shaker Heights, one of the first planned communities in the country, enjoys a national reputation for excellence. Distinctive homes, tree-lined streets, picturesque lakes and parks are nestled within its neighborhoods making it an ideal place to walk, run, bike or play.

The houses are within walking distance of shops, restaurants and Shaker's recreation center, Thornton Park, which has outdoor pools, indoor ice arena, and tennis
